Terms

Payment must be made IN ADVANCE for all one-time display, directory and classified ads.

The multiple insertion rate is only available for those who have a signed ad contract on file. The multiple insertion rate is only available to advertisers with accounts in good standing. ALL PAST DUE ACCOUNTS WILL REVERT TO THE ONE-TIME RATE. There are no exceptions. Advertisers under contract must pay in advance for their first ad. They will be billed at deadline for all future ads.

Advertisers with accounts in good standing and those for whom we have a credit card number on file may pay for their ads within 10 days of publication. All others must pay at the time they submit their ad. Under no circumstances shall we include any ads for which the previous issue's bill has not been paid. There are no exceptions. Contracts must be completed within 12 months. Although we will make every effort, we cannot guarantee inclusion of ads or changes to ads that arrive in our office after deadline. Please plan accordingly.

The Aiken Horse Distribution 2010-2011

The Aiken Horse is a free bimonthly newspaper distributed at tack stores, feed stores and businesses throughout the Aiken-Augusta area. The paper is also available at all major regional equestrian events. It is delivered to local hotels every Thursday, many of which put it in all their rooms. The Greater Aiken Chamber of Commerce gives the paper to visitors interested in the horse world. Numerous local realtors include the paper in their mailings to prospective customers. A few large businesses with offices in the area use The Aiken Horse as part of the information packet that they send to employees who are relocating to the area.

In addition, The Aiken Horse is included in the State of South Carolina's tourism program. This means that the paper is available at nine roadside South Carolina Welcome Centers.

Because Aiken has attracted so much interest in the horse world, the paper is in demand across the country. Issues are distributed in tack and feed stores in the equestrian areas of many additional states. We also have subscribers around the country. Some states where we distribute the paper include:

Alabama	Maine	North Carolina
California	Maryland	Ohio
Colorado	Massachusetts	Pennsylvania
Connecticut	Michigan	Rhode Island
Delaware	Minnesota	South Carolina
District of Columbia	Missouri	Tennessee
Florida	Montana	Texas
Georgia	Nevada	Vermont
Idaho	New Hampshire	Virginia
Illinois	New Jersey	Washington
Iowa	New Mexico	West Virginia
Kentucky	New York	Wisconsin

WEBSITE

The Aiken Horse maintains a website, www.TheAikenHorse.com. Each issue is completely digitized and posted on our site as a flip book. We have a growing worldwide audience with thousands of visitors from over three dozen countries. People who visit are reading; the average visitor zooms in on over 45 pages. Live links to advertisers' websites are available. The Aiken Horse website and blog have thousands of regular readers, and are at the top of Google's listings when internet users search for equestrian-related activities in the area.

DEMOGRAPHICS

The Aiken Horse targets a diverse market. The paper covers all breeds and disciplines, with an emphasis on the sports that are prominent in Aiken. These include eventing, dressage, foxhunting, show hunting and jumping, polo and driving. We also have regular articles on many western disciplines, especially cutting and barrel racing, which are popular in the area.

Horses in Aiken are a large and growing business and The Aiken Horse is an important part of that growth. A recent study conducted by the University of South Carolina found that the equestrian industry in Aiken contributes almost $72 million to the economy each year. Our readership includes equestrians as well as people in Aiken's active community of retirees, many of whom enjoy attending equestrian events. The Aiken Horse is the indispensable guide to the region's horse world.

We are currently printing and distributing 10,000 copies of each issue.
